

Brindavan Gardens

SPIRITUAL / SHOEGAZE / DREAM · DEVOTIONAL REVERB

Devotional reverb. Sound as spiritual practice — the sacred made audible through drones, mantras, and the resonance of contemplation.

BIO

Brindavan Gardens is the spiritual sound practice of Manteis Recordings. Named after the gardens of Vrindavan — where devotion meets the earth — the project treats sound as a spiritual technology, not entertainment.

The debut album Upek■■■ (5 tracks) takes its name from the Buddhist concept of equanimity — the non-reactive awareness that holds all experience without grasping or pushing away. Where shoegaze wraps distortion around melody, Brindavan Gardens wraps silence around resonance.
